This has been a year of questions and answers, asking and learning, listening and discovering. We took some time this past year to conduct a library needs assessment so that we could hear directly from our staff, our stakeholders, and our community in order to provide the programs, services, and materials that reflect and meet the needs of the community we serve.

I am grateful for the support of our dedicated staff, our supportive Friends and Foundation, and our engaged community. Together we are working to ensure that the Arcadia Public Library continues to support, to educate, and to inspire. With your help, we are more remarkable and more important than ever.
